

September 2017

Hey Leo's boys,

Firstly, I would just like to congratulate you on making it to this stage of the year, one which I am sure has been challenging at times, yet has left you with memories, skills and connections that you will never forget.

Let me assure you that the most challenging period of the year is over. Although the thought of exams may loom large, there is finally light at the end of the tunnel. Now is simply a time to apply your learnings and reap the rewards of your hard work throughout the year. Stay organised, set out simple yet worthwhile tasks, get together to discuss, challenge and teach each other in order to make the most of this upcoming revision period. These straight forward ideas are efficient and easy to complete, yet are proven to keep you engaged and help take your results to that next level; something you are all capable of.

Embrace the nerves which you encounter, as it certainly is an exciting time, yet don't let them interfere with your life. As much as you've been told and may think that endless study is necessary, a healthy life balance is crucial during this period in order to stay well and perform your best. Be sure to continue to enjoy your social lives, extra curricular activities and routines which have been beneficial throughout the year; whatever works for you. Don't be scared to look beyond the exam period either, whether it be searching for your ideal Uni course, booking a holiday or planning schoolies. These are all exciting events which should motivate you, which you deserve and that you will love once the big year is over.

Finally, embrace this last part of your schooling life and don't take these last moments for granted, yet remember that life goes on post-ATAR. Your mates will still be there, and you will still have access to options that will allow you to reach your goals. Make the most of what De La has provided and I am sure your results will reflect the great efforts you have put in this year.

Feel free to contact me about anything as I am more than happy to assist at any time. Best of luck!

Cheers,
Will Taylor.
